

Kids Care Fun Fair

Spread Kindness

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 10-11:30 A.M.

MONDAY, JANUARY 19, 10-11:30 A.M. OR 1:30-2:45 P.M.

Do you see Tasha? She is learning how to write her name. Her teacher is helping her.

Who helped you learn to write your name?

Whether you are big or small, we all need help!
Sometimes we need help ...

... taking care of our bodies.

... carrying a heavy load.

... when we feel upset.

... when we learn new things.

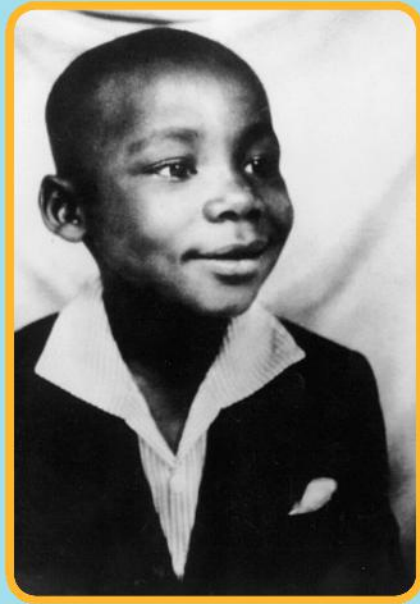

Sometimes, we are the helpers.

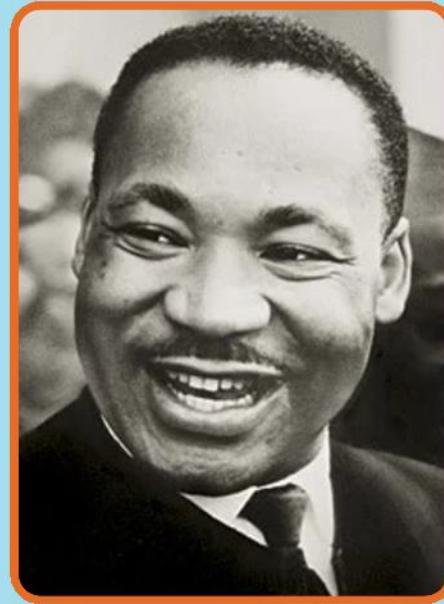

Who did you help lately?

Every year in January we have a special day for helping called Martin Luther King, Jr. Day.

This is Martin when he was a kid, just like you!

This is Dr. King all grown up!

Dr. King was an American who helped fix some laws that hurt people. He taught us that every person is equal, no matter who they are or how they look, and that we all deserve fair rules.

To remember Dr. King's hard work and important ideas, we are having an event at the library where you can be a helper. It's called the Kids Care Fun Fair.

At last year's Kids Care Fun Fair, kids created things they wished everyone could have!

This year, you can make something to cheer up a friend or family member.

You can pick out some food for someone who needs it. Sometimes, even when they work hard, people might need help to have enough food for their families.

It's important to be kind to ourselves, too! You can make a snuggly little plushie for yourself.

It feels good to help each other, whether we already know each other or we haven't met before.

These kids are helping each other build a tower.
Have you helped build something?

This family is preparing food for kids in places where there might not be enough rain, making it hard for food to grow.

Helping each other is part of what makes people special.

When we help each other, we can do amazing things.

Whether ancient or modern, structures are only possible because people help each other in many different ways.

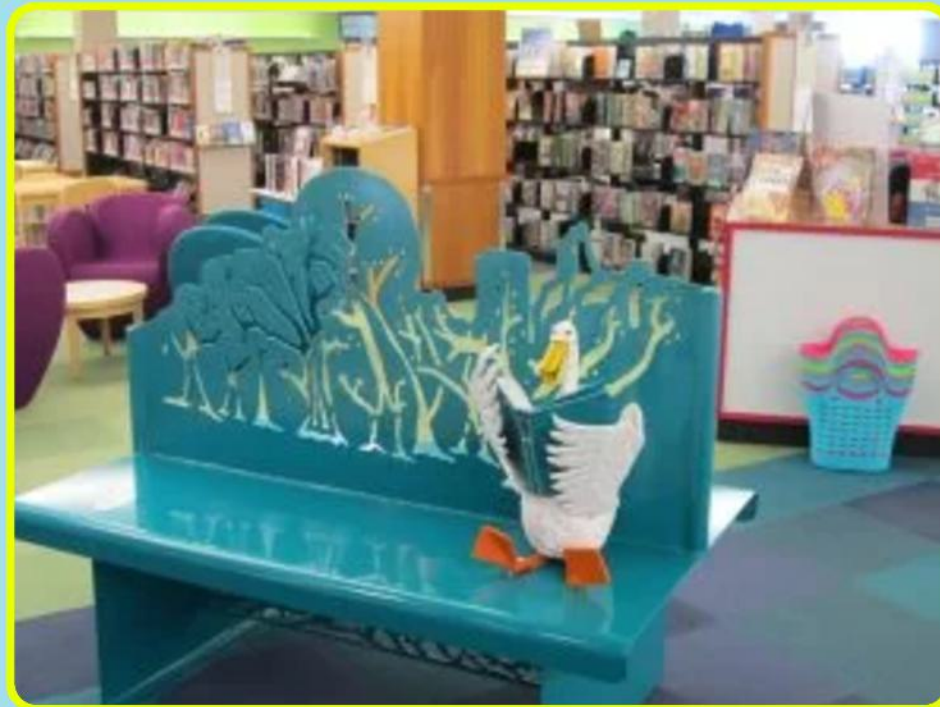

These people are working together to save a beached humpback whale.

Look at all the people who helped to build and send a robot rover to Mars!

Here at the library, we are always ready to help you!
We are here if you need a book, a scavenger hunt,
or something fun to do while you are here.

What is your favorite thing to do at the library?

We hope to see you at the library very soon!
